

CHAPTER ORGANIZATION & SUBMISSION GUIDELINES

For consistency of publication, please adhere to the following guidelines when preparing your chapter:

√ Abstract

As a contribution to a scholarly publication, your chapter should include an abstract, consisting of 100-150 words, that provides your readers with an overview of the content of your chapter. It is important that your abstract clearly states the purpose of your chapter and summarizes the content.

√ Introduction

Describe the general perspective of this chapter. Toward the end, specifically state the objectives of the chapter.

√ Background

Provide broad definitions and discussions of the topic and incorporate views of others (literature review) into the discussion to support, refute or demonstrate your position on the topic.

√ Main Focus of the Chapter

Present your perspective on the issues, controversies, problems, etc., as they relate to theme and arguments supporting your position. Compare and contrast with what has been, or is currently being done as it relates to your specific topic and the main theme of the book. Also, you may discuss solutions and recommendations in dealing with the issues, controversies, or problems presented in the preceding section.

√ Future Trends

Discuss future and emerging trends. Provide insight about the future of the book's theme from the perspective of your topic. Viability of a paradigm, model, implementation issues of proposed programs, etc., may be included in this section. If appropriate, suggest future research opportunities within the domain of the topic.

√ Conclusion

Provide discussion of the overall coverage of the topic in your chapter and concluding remarks.

√ References

Your chapter should be fully referenced and all discussions and arguments must be supported by current published research in scholarly publications. Although there is no magic "adequate number of references," your paper should be supported by at least 15-20 fully documented references.

√ Key Terms and Their Definitions

You are required to provide 7-10 terms related to the topic of your chapter and provide clear and concise definitions of each term. Place your terms and their definitions at the end of the chapter after the references section of your chapter.

√ Style

Submitted chapters must be written in the APA (American Psychological Association) editorial style. References should relate only to material cited within the chapter and be listed in alphabetical order, including the author's name, complete title of the cited work, title of the source, volume, issue, year of publication, and pages cited. Please do not include any abbreviations. Please see the following examples:

When using the source in the text, state the author's name and year of publication. Please see the following examples:

Example 1: In most organizations, data resources are considered to be a major resource (Brown, 2002; Smith, 2001).

Example 2: Brown (2003) states that the value of data is recognized by most organizations.

When quoting another author's work, the author's name, the date of publication, and the page(s) on which the quotation appears in the original text should follow the direct quote:

Example 1: Brown (2002) states that "the value of data is realized by most organizations" (p. 45).

Example 2: "In most organizations, data resources are considered to be a major organization asset" (Smith, 2003, pp. 35-36) and must be carefully monitored by the senior management.
